

Crawford County Next In Line as State's Dumping Site?

By Rod Danley

Crawford County is now the only site being tested for the possible disposal of an unknown amount of PBB contaminated milk from this state.

The site here, according to Department of Natural Resources (DNR) officials in Lansing, is being investigated, but other undisclosed locations may also be examined before a definite decision is made about making Crawford County a milk dump for Michigan.

Meetings have been held with state officials and the members of both the County Board of Commissioners and with Grayling Township officials as well. The news came as a surprise to both Bruce Reynolds, director of the Environmental Health Section for this area, and the local environmental officer for Crawford County, Ed Schoonover.

The determination of this site being located in this county has not been finalized according to Dr. B.P. Shah and Dr. Delores Montgomery who have been looking in this area for a good location. They both work for the DNR Resource Recovery Department and are geologists who usually work in the field of locating suitable sites for waste disposal facilities for garbage and other materials.

Their search for a site here has come at the request of the Department of Agriculture in Lansing which has to comply with a new law passed by the legislature which said that any milk with over five parts per billion containing PBB was contaminated and has to be disposed of and not allowed on the market. Any milk which turns up in the new testing program for the state will be dumped and right now the only site being tested is here in Crawford County.

Dr. Montgomery and Dr. Shah were assigned the responsibility of finding a suitable location and the site here is described as being north of Wakeley Bridge Road and north of North Down River Road in the eastern portion of Grayling Township. This site is in the state land section of the military property, but is not, according to health officials, in the impact zone of the artillery range.

Dr. Montgomery said the site is still in the examination stage and that other sites were being considered. However, neither her nor Dr. Shah would name the other possible locations. Dr. Montgomery did confirm that no testing was being done anywhere else in the state at this time and also confirmed that if any other testing was being done it would be done by the department in which she was working.

She said no other considerations such as environmental impact statements or total effect of the milk dumping have been completed and said the first step was to find a suitable site.

The process of finding the site is a long one and at this time a number of test wells are being drilled at the Crawford County location to determine exactly what happens to the groundwater flowing in the area and to determine how deep the soil in the location extends beneath the water levels.

The initial examination of the site has indicated that the location may be suitable but both geologists confirm that until all the data is compiled there is no true picture yet of what is happening with the groundwater at the location. To determine these various factors the test wells are being drilled in a number of locations around the site. The borings from these wells will determine what the soil is made of and how deep the water flows are beneath the ground, and in what direction the water moves.

Both persons indicated that once all the data is collected on the proposed sites a decision will be made on which has the best hydrogeological features for the safe disposal of the milk. Then an environmental impact statement should be done to determine what other effects will be felt by the disposal of the milk, according to Dr. Montgomery.

No-one can estimate how much milk will be involved once the new standards come into effect said Dr. Montgomery who admitted that the new tests could produce a great deal of milk or could produce very little. "We are working in the dark," she said. She went on to explain that the proposed site may be larger than what is needed or it could be smaller. Until the testing is done under the new law the final amount of milk will not be known.

Dr. Shah said that there is absolutely no plan under consideration at the present time to dispose of the milk in brine wells in the county. Brine wells are oil wells no longer being used by petroleum companies. Brine is a byproduct from other oil wells under production and it is pumped back into old wells to dispose of it. Dr. Shah said no consideration was being given to use this type of disposal for the milk. He said there were not even any oil wells on the proposed site which had ever been drilled.

He also indicated that the milk to go to whatever site was finally decided on would come from all over the state in small tank trucks. He said the details concerning the safety and routing of those trucks would be in the hands of the Department of Agriculture.

Bruce Reynolds is the director of the Environmental Health Section for this area which includes Crawford, Kalkaska, Missaukee and Wexford Counties. In the office of Grayling, Ed Schoonover, is the environmental sanitarian, working under his direction. In an interview with Reynolds on Monday he said he knew nothing about the proposed plan except what he has heard on the radio and television and said he cannot understand why he was not contacted about the proposal since he was notified when the Kalkaska cattle burial plan was being discussed.

The first meeting to be held on the issue was held in Grayling at a meeting of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners. They met on the issue behind closed doors. Schoonover, who was to attend that meeting was sick and not at work that day, according to board chairman, Fred Kauffman who also explained why the board met in executive session concerning the meeting. He said he received a call from the DNR last week for a meeting with the county board as soon as possible. Kauffman said he asked what it was about, and he was told it concerned milk and Camp Grayling. He said he understood from the conversation that the men at the camp had drank bad or tainted milk and there was an emergency health situation to be dealt with quickly.

He said there is a special provision under the Open Meetings Act which allows for closed meetings on matters related to health issues and he asked the DNR if they wanted a closed meeting. This was confirmed so a closed session was held, he said.

"It wasn't until the meeting started and they dropped the bomb on us about the PBB milk that we really knew what it was all about," said Kauffman. The next meeting held on the issue was the Grayling Township meeting and it was held in open session.

Sanitarian Reynolds said he would personally prefer to see the milk disposed of at the old (See Dumping on page 2)

House Judiciary Chairman Attacks Senate for Foot-dragging on Crime Problems in Grayling Talk

State Representative Paul A. Rosenbaum (D-Battle Creek), in an appearance Monday in Grayling before the Michigan Northern Counties Association, attacked the Senate for its inaction and the Governor for his lack of support for his House-approved bills to crack down on hard drug dealers.

Rosenbaum, House Judiciary Committee Chairman, hit the Senate for "foot-dragging and obstructionism in dealing with one of Michigan's most critical crime problems."

The Rosenbaum bills would establish mandatory sentences, ranging from life imprisonment for possession of 650 grams or more of narcotics or cocaine to 10 to 20 years for possession of 50 to 225 grams. These could not be served concurrently with prison sentences for any other felony and second or subsequent convictions would carry mandatory life sentences and would allow police to use, under careful controls, court-ordered wiretapping to obtain evidence against major drug operators. Rosenbaum further commented that "these bills especially put more force into the law for dealing with the big-time drug pushers, by making the criminal activities more hazardous both in enacting the wiretap provision and in mandating more stringent penalties."

"The House passed essentially the same package last session, and it died in the Senate," Rosenbaum said. "We passed the bills again this year, in April, and after more than five months the Senate has done nothing with them and gives no indication of doing anything with them. This is major crime-control legislation, yet there appear to be certain influential members of the Senate who, for reasons of their own, appear to be opposed to it. These Senate members should be cognizant of the fact that Michigan voters are very irate over the lack of effective legislation being passed to curb violent crimes perpetrated on honest and law-abiding citizens."

Rosenbaum also aimed criticism at the reluctance of the Governor to act on this anti-crime legislation. "The Governor nor, if he was truly interested in the fight against drug addiction and drug-related crime, would not wait for the usual pollster's opinion but for once should show the initiative to eliminate a serious problem within his power; i.e. he could exert pressure to get action on the bills," Rosenbaum stated.

He added that the Governor and some senators may have reservations about the wiretap provisions of the package. "If so, they fail to understand that court-authorized wiretapping is necessary to protect honest citizens against the heroin traffic and the drug-related crime it spawns," Rosenbaum said. "We have built every possible and reasonable safeguard into the bill to prevent wiretap abuse. If we are sincerely interested in driving out the drug peddlers, we have to give police the tools to do it."

Rosenbaum was also critical of the Governor for his non-support of Rosenbaum's proposed constitutional amendment to deny the right to bail to those considered dangerous if set free.

The proposal would automatically deny bail to anyone who has been convicted of first degree murder or convicted of two or more violent felonies in the last 15 years or to anyone indicted or arraigned on a felony charge while on bail, probation or parole from an earlier felony arrest or conviction. Bail could be denied at the discretion of the court for persons arraigned on charges of first degree criminal sexual conduct, armed robbery or kidnapping for extortion.

"These are the type of people we have to keep off the streets," Rosenbaum said. "They are our career criminals. It is an eminently reasonable approach to an absolutely devastating problem in this state and country. There is no question that 15% of the criminal element in this state is responsible for 65% of the violent crimes. The Governor must know this, yet he has consistently refused to support (See Judiciary on page 6)

Animal Control Shelter Closed

The Animal Control Shelter currently used by the Crawford County Sheriff's Department, was closed the 15th of September. The reason is that it does not meet the Department of Agriculture standards.

A temporary agreement has been made with Sheriff Gareth Meyer of Roscommon County to hold those dogs that must be picked up, until a facility can be acquired in Crawford County.

The Roscommon County Animal Control Shelter is open to pick up Crawford County animals 3:00 to 3:30 p.m. each day. You must call the Roscommon Sheriff's Department for an appointment, 275-5101.

New Officers Named For Chamber

The Annual Membership Meeting of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce was held on Thursday evening, September 15th, at 7:30 p.m. at the Grayling City Hall.

The purpose of the meeting was to accept new members to the Board of Directors, amend the By-Laws, elect officers for the current fiscal year and approve the budget.

The officers are elected from the Board of Directors with Bill Bonkowski Vice President of the Grayling State Bank as President; Ron Fraser, owner of the Holiday Inn as 1st Vice President; John Naour of Cornell Realty as 2nd Vice President and Paul Lerg of the Crawford AuSable School system re-elected as Secretary/Treasurer. Gloria Kraus remains a member of the Board as an Immediate Past President. The office staff, Walt Nowak, Executive Director and Susan Stephan, office Secretary, are appointed by the Board.

New Board members welcomed to take their seats in the organization and voting for the first time on issues, are: Mrs. Bill Joseph of the Grayling Mercantile; Doug Wilson of the Black and White Foodland; Nelson Miles, Attorney at Law; and Bill Kelly of the Scrub Board Laundromat.

One of the Major By-Law changes was the change of the organization structure.

Previously the Chamber functioned under the guidelines of three major standing committees. The change calls for the organization of many committees with specific purposes under a classification heading with a Board member as the chairman. This change permits the Chamber to place on committees responsible members who have influence and interest in projects of their expertise, who are not members of the Board.

Another change gives authority to the President to appoint two members to the Board of Directors, without voting power, for a specific purpose and confirmed by the Board of Directors. This will allow a seat on the Board for representatives of major industries or utilities or (See Chamber on page 7)

Entertain Cheboygan Saturday

Vikes Whitewashed by Roscommon, 13-0

by Joe Schrader

Grayling's Varsity squad wandered into the land of the Roscommon Bucks last Friday night but came staggering home on the short end of a whitewashing, 13-0. The loss evened the Vike record at 1-1 for the season. The Junior Vikes entertained Roscommon's JV squad last Thursday and produced an impressive 26-6 victory.

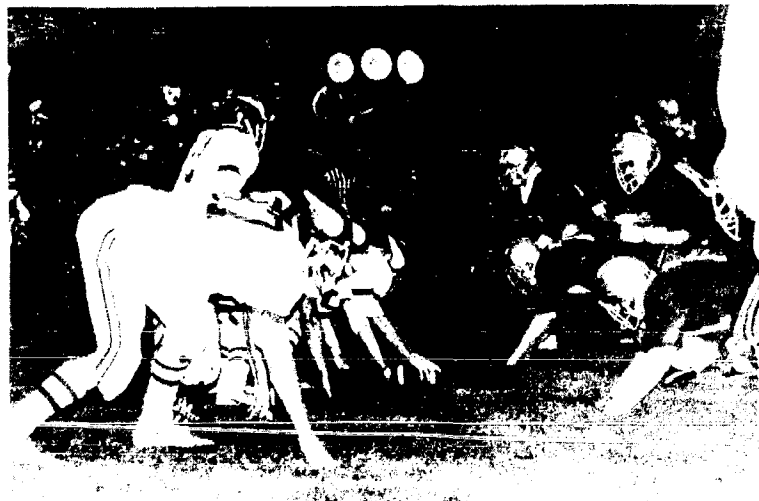

The varsity squad will launch its '77 MHS-conference season this Saturday at 3:30 p.m. when the Cheboygan Chiefs come into town. "What can I say," remarked Head Coach Bill Klinger after the Roscommon loss, "we were just plain flat; apparently our boys weren't mentally prepared for the game." The referee whistle got well tuned as the local squad made mistake after mistake, squashing any number of offensive attempts. "Our defensive unit played adequately," continued Klinger, "but our offense continually gave Roscommon the ball in good field position. We'll go back to the basics on Monday during practice and I guarantee that we'll give Cheboygan a tough time this Saturday." The Chiefs lost to Sault Ste. Marie Friday night, 41-16.

Grayling took the opening kickoff and returned the ball to the 32-yd. line. The drive fizzled and Rocky Tobin punted to the Bucks who took over on their 35. Roscommon failed to move the ball and the Bucks returned the punt. The Vike offense was stalled by the Bucks and both teams exchanged the ball a number of times the first quarter. Roscommon got the scoreboard ticking in the second quarter however. Grayling's punter, Rocky Tobin, after the Vikings were stalled again, punted to Roscommon who took over on the 36 yard line. Buck tailback Maurice Moses scampered 45 yards on the next play and Roscommon had the ball nestled comfortably on the Vike 18 yard line. Grayling's defense shoved the Bucks back to the 20 and an illegal procedure penalty against Roscommon moved the ball back to the 27 yard line.

What happened on the next play is hard to describe! After taking the snap from center, quarterback - Mike Michaud handed off to another back who in turn handed off to Darryl Leveille who threw a scoring strike to tailback Gordie Fuller for a TD and the Bucks went ahead 6-0. Dave Torongo split the uprights on the extra point attempt and Roscommon upped its lead to 7-0. That was the score at halftime when the Roscommon marching band entertained the crowd.

The Vike coaching staff had its team in the bus trying to regroup. It never happened. The Vike defense did its job in the second half but the offensive unit failed to reciprocate. The furthest penetration Grayling made was in the fourth quarter when they managed to get to Roscommon's 39 yard line.

The Bucks added to their lead in the fourth quarter, albeit unnecessary, with only a second remaining in the game. Roscommon tailback, Mike Ge- (See Football on page 9)

Committee Meets to Evaluate Health Care Development

The Health Resources Development, Implementation and Review Committee held its monthly meeting on Wednesday, September 21st, in Gaylord. Purpose of the meeting was to review and evaluate proposals for health care development in Manistee as well as Grayling.

Findings of the Committee will be presented as recommendations to the Northern Michigan Health Systems Agency at their monthly Board meeting in October.

Mercy Hospital of Grayling is requesting a Certificate of Need for a 7.6 million dollar expansion and renovation program. One aspect of the proposal is the conversion of the North Unit to 40 "basic" and "skilled" extended care beds. Other features of the proposal include surgery, laboratory, and radiology expansion as well as two additional obstetric beds.

The proposal affecting Manistee is the Regional Health Care Program's proposal for federal funds to support the Dental and Medical Clinic in Manistee. The request is for $1,316,480 from the Public Health Services funds for the coming year. The program also affects several counties to the south of Manistee.

Senate Bill 714 Concerns School Leaders

Superintendents of Public Schools and the Intermediate School Districts from 52 schools across Northern Michigan gathered at Gaylord, Wednesday, to sign Petitions addressed to their State Representatives and Senators, advising them on the problems which would be created if Senate Bill 714 is passed into law without appropriate amendments which are being recommended by the school superintendents.

School superintendents are urging their legislators to add an amendment to Senate Bill 714 which will create a denial (See Senate Bill on page 2)

Dumping

Kalkaska burial site for cattle which was closed after political pressure forced the end of its use as a disposal site for infected animals.

Reynolds says that he would prefer to have only one site being used in the whole state since it would require only one area to be monitored and guarded against accidental use. Reynolds said he knows that will make Kalkaska people very unhappy. He said he would prefer the site there being used since the cattle were already buried at that location. A court battle looms on a similar site proposed for the burial of cattle in Oscoda County.

To dispose of the milk, a layer of topsoil (ranging from two to five feet according to different officials) will be peeled back at the final site by bulldozers. The milk will then be poured on the ground according to Dr. Montgomery, and when that is completed, the topsoil will be pushed back onto the site and the land reclaimed. The PBB will then be locked into a narrow strip of soil, which according to Dr. Montgomery should hold the poison in a narrow strip of earth forever.

She said there are two ways of expressing the length of time that the chemicals will remain active. These include the chemical half life and the biological half life. The chemical half life has been estimated at 100,000 years and the biological half life at seven years. This means that the chemical takes 100,000 years to disappear from the ground. The biological half life means that in an animal or person, after seven years, one half of the quantity that they originally had in their system, still remains. If a person had PBB in their body in 1970, after 7 years, (1977), half of it is gone and one half still remains. After the next 7 years, or in 1984, half of the first amount left over is gone but one quarter still is in the tissue.

Neither of the state officials could hazard a guess as to how much of the chemical would turn up in the milk, but both indicated it may be a very small amount. Possibly two grams in total would be mixed in with the thousands of gallons of milk and poured over the entire 20 acre site. This would mean that in any one area there would be very small amounts of the chemical. Neither would deny the possibility however, that the levels in the milk once the testing began, could also be higher.

Dr. Montgomery was asked if the chemicals could possibly move back up through the soil via plant roots and be consumed by deer or other animals. She said there has been research on this which definitely discounts that possibility. She said the chemicals adhere to the soil particles and will not go into the plants. She was then asked what would happen if earthworms moved through the poisoned belt of earth and ingested the chemicals into their bodies while eating the soil. Could the worms then pass the chemicals onto birds in the food chain which ate them. She said, "Those are good points and they will have to be finalized." These types of things will have to be considered in the environmental impact statement, but those are steps that have to be taken after the study we are doing now is completed, she said. She was also asked about burrowing animals like groundhogs or skunks.

Asked if the area was located near the Kirtland Warbler nesting area, she said that the site is four or five miles from the restricted area for the birds. She said the consideration of the Warblers had already come into the planning for the site.

Asked why the milk could not be buried above the cattle at the Kalkaska site (the cattle there are buried a minimum of 15 feet deep), she said, "The only thing I can say is that the Kalkaska site is closed."

Although many people have called for the incineration of the cattle or milk in a huge furnace type vault, Dr. Montgomery said this is not an economic possibility for such huge amounts of milk (most estimates are in the millions of gallons) or for the destruction of cattle. "If anyone knows of a facility that can handle large quantities of material I would sure like to know about it," she said. She explained that there were facilities already which could dispose of small amounts (possibly 50 gallons of milk per day) at very high costs. She said she knows of no facility for disposing of large amounts of material.

Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dorah attended the wedding of her grandson Mark Stephan Field and Sally Jane Charlesworth. They were married at a "plain and impressive ceremony" in St. John's First United Methodist Church by Rev. Francis Johannides, pastor.

Sally shunned the traditional wedding veil and plucked a white zinnia from her mother's garden and wore it in her hair. Her dress was made by her mother. She wore a string of pearls purchased by the groom while he was in service in the East.

Altar flowers, bridal bouquet and corsages were also made by her mother and other members of the two families. Also, throughout the dining area flowers were from the "fields and fence rows" of golden rod, Queen Ann's lace, wild asters and wild daisies, plus zinnias.

Mr. and Mrs. Field honeymooned for a week on Mackinac Island and the Upper Peninsula. They also were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Townsend of Marquette one night.

period for non-certified employees during the traditional breaks in the school calendar. Fraser Dean, Superintendent of schools, reports that if this amendment is not approved, the Crawford AuSable School District will be required to pay up to $80,000 in annual unemployment benefits to its present non-certified employees. These benefits will be a direct expense to its taxpayers of the Crawford AuSable School District.

The bills which are currently introduced to meet the Federal Unemployment requirements specifically exclude teachers and administrators from being eligible for unemployment benefits during vacations and between school terms. The Federal law gives state governments the option of making non-certified school employees eligible for unemployment benefits between school terms, Christmas and Easter breaks or denying them these benefits.

Superintendents throughout Michigan are encouraging citizens to write to their legislators about this problem. They want citizens to support the amendments which have been proposed for Senate Bill 714.

GRAYLING, MICHIGAN — THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1977

From Our Corner...

More and more it is becoming evident that the changing of the state constitution, back in the early 60's, giving representation in Lansing by population will eventually ruin the north country — especially the little counties such as Crawford, Kalkaska, Oscoda and Montmorency.

The new decision reached last week that Crawford should be the prime target for dumping the PBB tainted milk just so happened to connect the link of the above mentioned neighbors. For some unearthly reason — we haven't come up with a concrete answer — except between all four of us we possibly have four representatives in Lansing — it is quite apparent neither the Senate nor the House give a damn when they know there are not enough to fight back.

One hears the argument, "All you have is jack pine and vacant land, why not dump the contaminated carcasses in the ground up north?" This is a good question. Our problem is how in hell do you answer to the bureaucrats who are over-protecting us in our environment out of Lansing while our elected officials are contaminating us underground out of Lansing?

We have been by old stone quarries, seen vacant land in the Lansing, Grand Rapids, Flint, Pontiac areas — why not do the dumping down there and save transportation costs — or better yet, there may be a spent salt mine under Detroit that could accommodate the spoiled milk. But then, we don't believe the forty or so representatives from Detroit would agree on this suggestion.

We are beginning to prepare ourselves on another matter concerning our learned DNR officials telling us what is better for us who have to live here.

We can't quite remember if it is a 3 - 5 - 7 or 10 year cycle — it really doesn't matter — anyway, we have noticed recently news releases concerning the removal of the dam in town. Now this has to be the fourth attempt since we have been here, and the three previous met with, as we are sure the fourth will be, staunch protest from the natives.

Not being a native, we would go along with the DNR, if they promise to dump all downstate senators and representatives, along with anything else they may have that is contaminated, in the river just prior to releasing the dam.

An idle thought — wouldn't it be nice if the Upper Peninsula seceded, and included the Northern half of the Lower Peninsula down to M-55?

A parting thought — our past weekend was most happy with T.J. and Stephany visiting us, plus, talking to Dane and Cyd in California ... We hope your coming weekend will be as happy.

Walter Hatch killed an old bear and two cubs last week. Wednesday, in Beaver Creek. The fires had driven them out of their lairs for the water, as it has droves of deer. Mrs. George W. Bratt ran onto a bear near Simpson's Lake Monday morning and called her husband, who had only an axe to shoot with and could not get near enough for effective work.

Barnet Kropp came in from the Michelson Cedar Camp near Moorestown last week. He reports one of his camps burned by forest fires, and a large part of the summer cut of logs. His cabin where his family is living was surrounded by fire so that it was not possible for them to leave. The building caught fire a number of times, but they fortunately had a pump in the house and were able to save the house and themselves.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

The Last Great Revival
Rev. 7:9-14

During the seven year Great Tribulation, there will be the greatest revival of Bible Christianity the world has ever known. The Church will already be gone, raptured to be with Christ. The revival will begin with a select number of orthodox Jews accepting Jesus Christ as their Messiah. These will reach the world for Jesus Christ.

"After this I beheld, and, lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands." Rev. 7:9. Following apparent martyrdom at the hands of antichrist, we read of the worship of this great multitude before the throne of God in verses 10, 11 and 12.

The identity of this saved multitude is clear by the question of verse 13 and answered in verse 14. "And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they? And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the lamb." During the Great Tribulation there will be millions and millions of unsaved people from every nation turning to God and trusting the shed blood of Jesus Christ for sins.

Following the failure of the Church to reach the world for Christ during over 1900 years of opportunity, a small select number of messianic Jews will preach the gospel to every creature in less than seven years. To further humiliate the Church, it seems clear from 2 Thess. 2:10-12 that these saved millions of the Tribulation had never heard the gospel of truth before.

It is comforting to know that millions of people will be saved even during the Great Tribulation. It is sad to realize how much many will suffer before they turn to Jesus Christ, and how much most will suffer in martyrdom at the hands of antichrist. The saddest of all is the present multitude of professing Christians who have been deceived by the spirit of antichrist already. All those millions of precious souls who are trusting everything except the person, work and word of Jesus Christ as their only hope.

They are trusting their church, their life and their own judgment in place of God's Word. None of these who live to enter the tribulation will be saved. They will suffer the torments of hell on earth and spend eternity in a literal Hell of fire and brimstone. (adv.)

Class of '42 Gets Together

The Grayling High School graduating class of 1942 held their 35th year class reunion at the Chief Shoppemagon Hotel on Saturday evening, September 17, 1977. The cocktail hour and reminiscing started at 6 o'clock in the Chippewa Room and at 7 o'clock the group enjoyed the fabulous Saturday night buffet.

Focal point of the evening was the class picture which was displayed for the occasion and which evoked many comments about the hair styles and "color."

Following dinner, a letter from Herbert "Bud" McDonnell of Traverse City was read expressing his regret at being unable to attend. Also absent was the class sponsor and his wife, Cecil and Lois Roberts, of River Rouge. It was the first of the 5-year reunions that he could not attend because of ill health. A card was signed by those present and sent to him. Also read were the class poem and class gittatory.

Everyone was in favor of planning a 40th year reunion in 1982.

Attending were Jean Wheeler Kaiser and husband, Jack, of Flint; Betty Christenson Martin and husband, Howard, of Midland; Jennine Matthews Gillette and husband, Fred, of Albion; Joan Montour Gallagher and husband, Arnold, of Flint; Joyce Bugby Piper and husband Roy, of Princeton, Ill., and St. Petersburg, Fla.; Irene Pynnnonen Sanger and friend, Martha Maynard of Lansing (Irene's husband was fishing!); Helen Newell Johnson and Lyle, and Fay Christenson Bovee and husband, Bob, all of Grayling; Francis and Marie Annis of Lansing; Bob Chappell and wife, Eileen of Harper Woods; Jay Stephan of Alpena, Dick and Gloria Rasmussen, Bill and Joyce Sorenson, Ed and Ruth Funck and Junior Palmer, all of Grayling.

The committee in charge of arrangements was Helen Johnson, Bill Sorenson and Fay Bovee.

Grayling, MI 49738.

Sir:
We, the surviving son, daughter and son-in-law of Ty and Maxine Kemp wish to express our sincerest gratitude to Sheriff Curtis Haas and his officers of the Crawford County Sheriff's Department.

On Saturday, September 3rd, our parents, Ty and Maxine Kemp were killed in an automobile accident in Crawford County. Sheriff Haas and his men provided us with every possible assistance in dealing with all the details following the accident. We hope that the residents of Crawford County are proud of their Sheriff's department, for they should be.

Not only was Sheriff Haas very efficient and professional in discharging his duties, he also demonstrated a degree of humaneness which could possibly be equalled but not surpassed by any public servant in the country. We speak of the manner in which Sheriff Haas took care of the family dog which was also killed in the accident. He properly and personally buried her. We are thankful that she was not simply discarded in a garbage dump or in some other inhumane way.

We understand that the Dog Pound is about to be closed and that neither Crawford County nor the City of Grayling has a Humane Society. If and when the proper authorities can decide to establish a Humane Society or other such agency to properly deal with animals, we will donate $1,000.00 in memory of our parents to that organization.

Sincerely,
Kenneth and Deborah Zornes
Scott M. Kemp

Dear Dr. Tanner:

As a general rule, a person is about as big as the things that make him mad. Consequently, there are aroused giants stalking Northeast Michigan, not merely thinly populated Oscoda County, Michigan citizens now realize the unlimited danger and threat to health and environment because of the unwise decision to bury probably far more than 5,000 PBB-contaminated carcasses. What a horrendous nightmare! Yet, an even more horrifying condition exists. The citizens of Michigan are appalled by the tyrannical behavior of their official leaders — discontent is planted deeply in the hearts of Michiganders — far deeper than the depth of the proposed landfill of cattle! We are dismayed by the untruths, innuendos and derogatory statements flung as bird seed to the people.

The recent letter written to you by Senator Davis is good in attitude, but lacking in fully expressing the only sane option left to the State of Michigan. The concrete vault is NOT the only acceptable alternative to the proposed landfill burial. Mr. Davis is not accurately listening to the voice of the people. Incineration is the only acceptable and possible panacea for this chemical monster.

Dow Chemical, when approached with the manufacture of PBB several years ago, turned it down because they felt it too dangerous to handle. Yet another company made it and so we now have that which can only be destroyed by extremely high temperatures of an incinerator. Michigan should have their own incinerator. It would cost no more than about three miles of concrete expressway. Until such time, these cattle should be trucked to Arkansas and incinerated at a cost of four cents per pound or approximately $280,000 for 5000 animals.

The State has already appropriated $870,000 for burial and monitoring of the burial site. It seems as though the difference would almost pay for the trucking. Better yet, why not let the chemical company responsible for this catastrophe pick up the tab?

Kalkaska County has already had cattle buried there and Lake County is next on the list. Crawford County is earmarked for the dumping of PBB milk which is considered too dangerous for consumption. Gratiot County had the raw PBB in sealed containers dumped there in a landfill where the containers did not remain sealed. They are already finding PBB in wells in that area. We need to stop dumping and start destroying these dangerous chemicals before the whole of Michigan is polluted. Who will want to visit or live in Michigan if they can no longer trust the drinking water or the officials? We do not believe in a fate that falls on men however they act, but we do believe in a fate that falls on them unless they act.

any anti-crime bill I have proposed over the last two years. The Governor can no longer ignore the tremendous impact and hardship that such criminal activity is having upon the decent citizens of this state," Rosenbaum stated.

Rosenbaum has sponsored another measure to place before Michigan voters a $439,250,000 bonding proposal to build new correctional facilities and renovate existing prisons. The total cost to each taxpayer in the State of Michigan, per year, for the 20-year life of the programs contemplated in this package would be $19.22.

"I hope to have this before voters in the 1978 general election," he said. "We do need mandatory sentences for violent crime, but mandatory sentences are useless unless we have somewhere to put the offenders. Our prisons are already critically and dangerously overcrowded. The bonding proposal is the most direct and only really effective way to provide us with the prison facilities we so desperately need to ensure public safety. If given an opportunity, I am absolutely convinced that over 90% of the voters in this state would vote in favor of this resolution if put on the ballot."

Rosenbaum added, "A petition drive to eliminate good time for certain offenses is being promoted by the Oakland County prosecuting attorney. This is not the right approach. It does not address itself to the problem of our prisons, i.e. limited prison capacity and prison discipline, despite the fact that the petition would have a staggering impact on prison population and on corrections' costs."

Rosenbaum concluded by saying, "It is nothing more than an attempt to deceive concerned Michigan citizens with an emotional and probably politically motivated solution. What Michigan really needs is a comprehensive plan dealing with corrections facilities that takes into account both long and short range needs as well as providing funds for stiffer law enforcement penalties. The petition does not consider these factors."

Participates In Reforger 77

FT. RILEY, KAN. — Army Specialist Four Bonnie J. DeWitt, daughter of Mrs. Irah Williams, Route 3, Grayling, is among the more than 12,000 U. S. troops who flew to Europe to participate in Reforger 77.

Troops were airlifted to Germany, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg for the 10th annual Reforger field training exercise. After arrival they moved to sites in Germany to draw pre-positioned equipment for maneuver use.

Another aspect of Reforger tested sealift mobility forces. The Army's Military Traffic Management Command moved some 37,000 tons of equipment aboard two military sealift command ships. The ships crossed the Atlantic using simulated wartime convoy procedures.

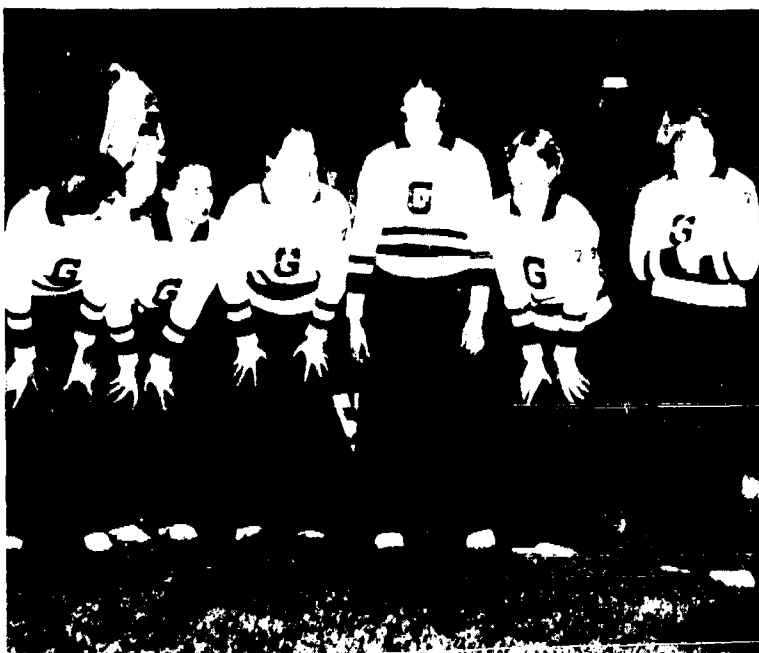

The entire exercise emphasizes the orderly disposition of forces and stressed deployment procedures and techniques.

Spec. DeWitt, who is regularly assigned to the 1st Medical Battalion at Ft. Riley, Kan., entered the Army in March 1973.

The specialist is a 1972 graduate of Grayling High School.

Her husband, Patrick R. DeWitt, is at Ft. Riley.

orge did it almost by himself. Faced with a fourth down situation, Grayling elected to go for it on their own 40 and failed. From the Vike 40 on in to the goal line it was all Mike George! He battered away at the weary Viking defense until finally scoring from the two yard line as the clock ran out and there was no point in trying for the extra point at all. It was all over then with the final score ending up 13 zip.

Tailback Curt Hanson racked up 52 yards in eight carries for Grayling and Sherm Holey hauled the pigskin 17 times for 49 yards. Defensively, Mark Colnick made 14 solo tackles. Bill O'Mara added 9 more and Tom Weidenmann and Doug Diehart made five apiece.

In the JV contest, coach Chuck Mire's squad made it two in a row with a 26-6 romp over Roscommon's JV unit. The JV's fooled Roscommon in the first quarter when tailback Todd Dunckley ran 44 yards on a fake punt play to push Grayling into a 6-0 lead. The extra point attempt failed. That was the score at halftime, but in the third stanza, Todd Dunckley broke off tackle and raced 50 yards for a TD behind the blocking of Jim Kitch and Dennis O'Mara. Dunckley scored again in the same quarter on a 1-yard plunge to boost the score to 16-0. Dunckley popped the pigskin through the uprights and the Vikes led 19-0.

The Bucks came back to narrow the gap when they scored in the third quarter but the Vikes led 19-6 when the final quarter started. Grayling broke the game wide open in the final stanza when quarterback Trent Bigler threw a 70-yard scoring bomb to fullback Bill Luckstead and Dunckley added the extra point to wind up the scoring for the Vikes. The JV squad travels to Cheboygan to take on the Chiefs this Friday afternoon.

Looks like Coach Mires has a winning combination put together for this year. That means there will be "good things to come" for Klinger's varsity squad in the future.

Houghton Lake Color Tour October 1st

The annual Houghton Lake Color Tour is slated for Saturday, October 1, starting at 10:00 a.m. The color tour has been a highlight of the fall season for the Houghton Lake area residents and visitors alike. The tour will start from the Houghton Lake Chamber of Commerce office where coffee and donuts will be served the early comers.

The chamber office is located in zone 14 in Prudenville near the playhouse.

The tour will leave the chamber office at 10:00 a.m. and head up colorful M-18 to 6 mile hill where it will proceed in a south westerly direction to view some of the most outstanding birch trees in Michigan.

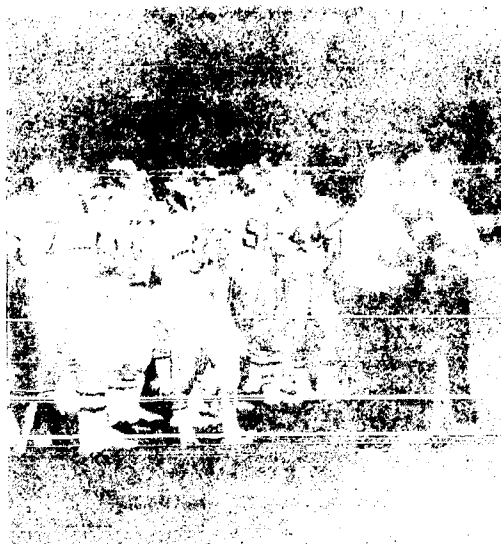

The tour will follow north shore drive to Reedsburg dam where a multitude of color can be seen reflected in Heedsburg Lake.

Some time will be spent at Reedsburg to give tourists a chance to marvel at the sparkling water cascade down the Reedsburg dam.

After leaving the Reedsburg area the tour will proceed to the Houghton Lake over-view on old U.S. 27 one mile south of the lake. From there a route will be taken on beautiful county road 400 to the natural red pine area on Owens road, and then back to the Houghton Lake Chamber of Commerce office.

The tour will end up at the starting point to give those driving on the tour an opportunity to car pool to save energy. The tour will end about 12 noon. Lunch will be on your own.

Those taking the tour are encouraged to bring cameras because several stops will be made along the way for picture taking and to get a better view of the fall wonderment.

GROUP STRATEGY—The Vikes bench looks a little despondent as time runs out on them as they ended up on the short end of a 13-0 score against the Bucks.

SCHOOL'S OPEN—Since one million youngsters will be returning to classes this September by school bus, safety patroler Frank Audia of Dearborn urges motorists to be extra alert. When school buses are boarding or unloading children, such as the three students shown here, Automobile Club of Michigan reminds motorists to stop at least 10 feet in front or in back of the bus. During the 1976-77 school year in Michigan, five youngsters died in bus-related accidents, two more than the previous year, and 72 school-aged pedestrians were killed. Children unaccustomed to the dangers of crossing streets and motorists who were inattentive or driving too fast for conditions caused many of the deaths.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Nielson of Royal Oak, spent Sunday, the 11th, visiting his parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Otto Nielson.
Barbara Cornell has returned to Dearborn Heights and her teaching duties in Romulus after spending most of the summer with her mother, Mrs.
Willard Cornell at Lake Margrethe. Nancy Cornell and her guest, Paul Rink, both of Chicago, spent a week with her mother.

The new bridge over the AuSable River, on the Old Dam Road, is a big improvement over the old one. It was completed right on schedule, too. The detour, off Evergreen Drive, during its construction while a little time consuming, was a pleasant drive through the woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stephan of Cadillac spent last weekend at their home on the AuSable, here for bird hunting.

Eva Strong has been helping out at the Avalanche office.

Thomas Wilde and his seven year old son, Michael, of St.
Clair Shores, spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Evelyn Wilde, here to hunt.

Marvin McClain has signed up for some of the college courses being offered at the high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Davenport and grandson, Don Davenport, of Leslie, recently returned from a six week trip to the west coast in their "Flin Wheel".
They visited their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Brown and children, Eddie and Lynn, in Tacoma, Wash. They took a down the Oregon coast into the Redwoods of Calif. Barbara and the children accompanied them.
They took a tour around the Olympic Peninsula and fished for salmon at West Port and the Straits of Juan de Fuca. Mrs.
Davenport was the only successful one catching three fish weighing 10 to 20 pounds. They camped at Mt. Rainier for a week. They had just a wonderful time. While they were gone their son, Lt. Col. Ted Davenport, ret., wife and children Brian, Tony and Erik stayed at their home on the AuSable. Ted has a new job in Kalamazoo and the family will make their home there. The weekend of the 9th Max and Rowena visited their son, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Trowbridge, Joey and Denise in Midland. They returned loaded down with vegetables from Larry's garden. On Thursday the 8th, the Rev. and Mrs. R.C.
Puffer of Kalkaska visited the Davenports. Mrs. Davenport retired last June after teaching 13 years in the Roscommon Elementary School.

Mrs. Lowell Green (Jean) of

Soil Erosion Study To
Be Made

"Crawford and Roscommon counties wind and water erosion problems are being studied by the Soil Conservation Service," states District Conservationist
Jim Squires.

The Crawford - Roscommon
County study is part of a National Erosion Inventory being made to determine the extent of soil erosion occurring in the country.

A conservationist from SCS will study forty-eight 160-acre sample areas in these counties.
He will evaluate nearly 20 factors that effect erosion.

Jim Squires will visit the sample areas in September and October and gather facts about the slope, land use, existing conservation practices - and cropping systems for each sample. Land owners will be contacted as needed regarding this inventory.

Editor's Mailbox

Dear Editor,
I would appreciate it very much if you could print this letter in your paper for me.

I want to thank some very special people for the kindness and understanding they showed me after my accident on Saturday, September 3rd. Included in these are all the personnel of Mercy Hospital - doctors, nurses, aides, technicians and housekeeping, especially Sister Mary Hilda for her hospitality to my parents. I would also like to thank the Crawford County Sheriff's office and the thoughtful way they contacted my parents, and for keeping me company in the emergency room when everything was so confusing. Also a big thank you to the Fire Department Rescue squad, especially John Smock, for coming to see me when I knew no one and for their patience, for making me feel at home and secure both at the scene and at the hospital. I knew I was in good hands.

I hope and pray none of you will ever know the trauma and pain associated with this type of accident, but if you ever do, and are all alone and 200 odd miles from home, I wish you will have the same treatment I did. I felt like I was at home in bed. I even had a "mother", Mary Wilson, who looked over me like a guardian angel while I was in the hospital so I never felt lonely. I wish I could find words stronger than "Thank You" to say to her. She's truly a beautiful person.

Thanks to the great treatment
I had at Mercy Hospital, I should be up and on my feet next week and will be able to go back to work soon after that. I can only say thank you again and hope you all the best in your lives as you certainly deserve it. If I left anyone out of my letter, please include yourself in my thanks and accept my apology for my poor memory.

With my love,

Two Cents Worth....

By Rod Denley

How does it feel to live in the garbage can of the United States?
Every time there are funds to give away they go towards Detroit or Lansing. When it is time to dispose of atomic waste, PBB infected cattle or milk, then the eyes slowly turn Northward. Thanks ... but no thanks, Lansing.

The land here is clean, and let's keep it that way. Atomic wastes and PBB are going to be around not for hundreds of years, but hundreds of thousands of years. We do not need any more PBB disposal sites for milk or anything else here in Crawford County.
Disposal sites which may be barren and safe now, may be later needed for development ... or due to a shift in geography become part of the watershed — and then what? In a city in Canada they dumped waste from a Uranium mine for over 15 years and then for a long time it was forgotten about. Three years ago a lot of people in one suburb of this city were getting some pretty strange illnesses and reactions, especially the kids at one school. Where was the school built? Right on top of the old waste pit from the Uranium mine. Nice, eh?

Who here can remember what was on the corner of a street, or even in a field, a thousand years ago. Nobody can and that is the whole point. Four generations from now someone could end up ploughing that field up and starting the whole cycle all over again.
And for those people who say the PBB will go into the ground and never go into plants, then they better head back to their textbooks.
That fallacy was shot down by a team of scientists about three years ago. From the ground to the grass, to the deer and back to us.
Nice again!

My suggestion is this: Pile up all the dead cow carcasses, and tank up all the spoiled milk and truck the whole rotten mess to Lansing.

Then give our fine representatives a first hand look at the waste. After that showing, hand them and all the other agencies and companies involved in this mess a set of picks and shovels to dig up a big parking lot in Lansing. Have them dig a big hole and then line it with concrete and dump in all the garbage.

Then repave the parking lot and put some test wells around it to check on the possible seepage from the vault.

That would accomplish a number of things. First, the legislature would, if it had the experience of cleaning up a mess like that, learn to move a bit faster in the future. Second, it would provide a nice reminder to them of what hard work is like. Thirdly, it would provide a nice permanent disposal site, since I am sure the parking lots of Lansing will never be put to a productive use.
Centers for the politicians always seem to endure any calamity.

Potpourri

Barefoot once again
through dollars, dimes, pears

Richard Millman

Join me once more, if you will, for one of our infrequent strolls, barefoot through the potpourri...

The costs of acquiring a new home keeps going up, up, up. During the spring of 1977, according to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, the average cost of a new home in the United States was $53,100, up from $47,900 in the preceding year. The three costliest areas were Los Angeles, San Francisco and Washington, where the minimum for a new single-family home ran somewhere around $76,000.

The United States is a country of proud home-owners, but that day may indeed be about pass, except for the very affluent.

Also let it be known that the cost of owning and operating a family-sized car is up again, according to the American Automobile Association. It now costs an average of 20.94 cents a mile to run a typical 6-passenger mid-sized car, according to a survey by AAA. That's up almost 4 percent in just three months, and about 35 percent since 1972.

The AAA adds that most of the increase in fixed costs comes from the price of auto insurance, and that's because of larger medical settlements in personal injury cases, and higher prices for new cars.

The United States also is a nation of proud car-owners and drivers. But that pursuit, too, may have to be adjusted because of the cost spiral.

Soon we won't be able to afford to go anywhere, because it costs too much to go, and we won't have a home to stay home in because it costs too much for a house.

Spending is comparative, of course. For another example, a Hofstra University study indicates Americans spend $1.4 billion a year trying to lose weight. About a billion dollars of that goes for diet food, books and literature, and another $225 million or so at health spas, weight-loss salons, and the like.

Maybe we won't be able to afford being skinny. But then, with the cost of food, we can't really afford to be fat, either. What's a body to do?

Try another thought on for size:

The 50-cent penny and maybe even the penny may be on their way out of circulation in this country. Treasury Secretary Michael Blumenthal, in a recent letter to Congress, stated the position of the Carter Administration as favoring the minting of conveniently sized dollar coins and eliminating the half-dollar. Just when the half-dollar was coming back into circulation, too.

As for the penny, production considerations point toward elimination, but how it would affect consumer habits has yet to be studied. For example, some economists fear that elimination of the penny might be inflationary because retailers would tend to round off their prices to the next highest five-cents.

But it costs about two-thirds of a cent to mint a penny today, and it is estimated that by 1982 the cost to mint a penny will be more than its face value.

Besides that, a penny doesn't buy very much either, except maybe 12 minutes on some parking meters, if you're lucky.

To close this offering on an upbeat, I culled this essay from a local church bulletin:

Consider the lesson of the oyster. The most extraordinary thing about the oyster is this. Irritations get into his shell. He does not like them; he tries to get rid of them.

But when he cannot get rid of them, he settles down to make of them one of the most beautiful things in the world. He uses the irritation to do the loveliest thing that an oyster ever has a chance to do.

If there are irritations in our lives today, there is only one prescription. Make a pearl.

LANSING — Wait much longer, and you're going to find firewood in short supply, cautions Harold W. Kollmeyer of the Department of Natural Resources' Forest Management Division.

"If your fire smokes and smolders all winter, blame it on the wet wood you got when you waited too long," he says. "The thousands of new owners of wood stoves, furnaces, or fireplaces are going to be competing with you for a limited fuelwood supply."

Kollmeyer says, "It's not too late to contact your wood supplier for wood at mid-season prices. Expect to get poorer quality wood and pay higher prices three months from now. Why not lay in a two-year supply? Good wood like good wine gets better with age."

Limited cutting areas are still available on public lands. Stop by your local Forest Service district ranger's office or your local DNR area forester's office if you need a free firewood permit. Locations are listed in the northern Michigan telephone directories under U.S. Forest Service, Forest Ranger, or Michigan Department of Natural Resources, Area Forester office.

Zone 2 Bear Hunters Must Have Permit

LANSING — Bear hunters are reminded that they must have a permit to hunt bear in Zone 2, (northern Lower Peninsula) the Department of Natural Resources says.

There are two bear seasons in Zone 2 this year. Both seasons are limited to Alpena, Alcona, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Crawford, Emmet, Isosco, Kalkaska, Montmorency, Ogemaw, Oscoda, Otsego, Presque Isle, and in Roscommon County east of US-27.

Seasons there are September 16-25 (guns, bow and arrow, and dogs legal under Bear or Sportsman's License — a permit is also required for the use of dogs); and October 1-9 (Bow and arrow only — dogs and firearms prohibited; Bear, Bow and Arrow or Sportsman's License).

To apply for your Zone 2 Bear Hunting Permit, address a postcard to yourself. On the back of the postcard write your license number, including the prefix letter, and the season in which you wish to hunt. You may apply for both seasons, if properly licensed. You may not submit more than one application for a permit for any one season.

Send the postcard in an envelope to: Bear Permit, Wildlife Division, Box 30028, Lansing, MI 48909.

If your application is incorrect, it will be sent back to you and you may reapply.

Wright Goes Air Force

Tom Wright, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Wright, Roscommon, has entered the U.S. Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program (DEP).

According to Sergeant Paul James, the Air Force recruiter here, Wright's entry into the DEP serves two purposes. First, it allows the Air Force to schedule an opening for him to attend basic training and be assigned to a job or skill area. The DEP also enables Wright, a 1976 graduate of Grayling High School, to wrap up his personal affairs before leaving home.

Wright will enter the Regular Air Force on November 25. Following six-week basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., he will receive technical training as an Aerospace Ground Equipment Mechanic, and upon completion be assigned to an Air Force Duty Station.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

What is the story behind this "For Sale" sign? Is it just a house that's for sale, or is this a tale of happiness or sorrow — of success or defeat?

Let's hope this story has a happy ending! But this isn't a world of make-believe we live in. God made us human beings, not puppets. He has given us minds and bodies, nerves and muscles — and weakness as well as strength.

Maybe the story behind this house is a happy one. Maybe it's a sad one. Regardless, the people who lived here, like all of us, will be able to accept both good fortune and bad if there is yet another house in their lives.

The House of the Lord, the Church, has been built to endure through the ages. Here we will always have a home — during our lives on earth as well as throughout eternity.

Band Students Attend Summer Camp

The Grayling High School Marching Band went to summer camp this year to combine a lot of hard band rehearsal with a number of recreation activities that blended both together for a positive experience.

"The kids work hard to raise the funds for this project and it always proves to be a great morale builder," said Marching Band Director, Rick Townsend, following the camp.

"What we try to do besides build morale is to teach the fundamentals of band and this year it really seems like we have succeeded," he said. He added, "The kids really got to know each other very well. Since we have been back they have been calling each other and getting together in small groups to rehearse."

He said 75 band members attended the camp, and besides spending 60 hours in rehearsal also got in lots of hiking, canoeing, swimming, horseback riding and other sports.
